

We are days away from the 2015 AEP launch!

As you know, the 2015 marketing period has been launched and we want to make sure our agents are prepared for the 2015 selling season! Are you certified? All agents are required to certify with United Healthcare before selling 2015 products. If you haven't certified, we have attached three documents that will assist you in this process.

After your certifications are complete, supplies will be available for ordering what you will need for a terrific selling season. And remember to find the latest updates and additional materials for ordering at www.UnitedHealthProducers.com which is available to support you 24/7. Feel free to contact our agent service department with any questions or supply orders. 800-777-9322

Important: All agents selling Medicare Advantage and PDP products, please use the attached FAX cover page and fax all applications to the # listed.
